The mistletoe is dependent on the apple and a few other trees, but can only in a far-fetched sense be said to struggle with these trees, for if too many of these parasites grow on the same tree, it will languish and die. But several seedling mistletoes, growing close together on the same branch, may more truly be said to struggle with each other.

The economy of Belarus is an upper-middle income mixed economy. As a post-soviet transition economy, Belarus resisted privatisation efforts, in favour of retaining centralised control politically as well as economically. The highly centralised Belarusian economy emphasises full employment and a dominant state sector. It can be described as a welfare state.
